GREENBRIER COUNTY HEAD START/PRE-KINDERGARTEN

197 Chestnut Street
Lewisburg, WV 24901

PHONE: (304) 647-7105

SERVICES: To provide the resources and support to help families and children work toward social, health, emotional, educational, and economic self-sufficiency through speech/physical and occupational evaluations and therapy, parent training sessions, parent/child activities, parent meetings, inclusion of special needs children and assistance in obtaining other needed services.

The universal model began in the Fall 2009 with the Pre-K committee and Head Start Policy Council voting on a universal application to be used in county based and collaborative sites. This application requests that parents indicate a preference of either the school based or collaborative site to ensure that the parent is given an option. Each March, families attend a recruitment fair to enroll their child in the PreK programs. Representatives from participating child care are available to answer any questions about the child care facility. representatives from the GC HS/PreK enroll the child based upon the location of PreK sites. Additional days are scheduled at each school based site to enroll children after the recruitment fair. PreK collaborative sites are invited to also attend to answer questions. The Kiddie Fair is also open to any agency interested in answering questions regarding the services that their agency has to offer GC PreK children. Recruitment of children for Head Start/PreK occurs throughout the year, including referrals from area physicians, parents, WIC, WV Birth to Three, DHHR and other agencies. In the spring of the year, a county wide Kiddie Fair will be held to register children for the following school year. This event will be heavily advertised on local radio and TV, in flyers sent home with children in the county school system, as well as in flyers at local community agencies, including those listed above. During the Kiddie Fair, parents will have the opportunity to meet with staff members to discuss questions or concerns, and other information about the program.

HIGH ROCKS EDUCATIONAL CORPORATION

195 Thompson Road
Hillsboro, WV 24946

PHONE: (304) 653-4891

SERVICES: High Rocks Academy for Girls. We recruit a large core group of motivated girls to attend summer camps, come to weekly tutoring sessions during the school year, engage in holistic college preparation program, and experience the world through small group service and educational travel experiences. Year round, our staff are available to them as mentors, life coaches, and advocates as they navigate the social and academic challenges of growing into strong young leaders in West Virginia.

High Rocks Community Programs. We facilitate youth to participate positively in the world around them by building their voice, leadership, and values through creative and service-oriented projects. Although you often find High Rocks Girls in leadership roles, these programs are co-ed, actively building teens' skills to work comfortably and effectively with a diverse group of people of different ages, gender, class, culture and background. Outreach to youth in the community includes programs available at the Steele Studio, a youth center located in downtown Richwood, WV and the Hub, a connected student café' located in downtown Lewisburg, WV. We also support local foods and local foods programming.

The Teaching Project. We share what we have learned about youth development in Appalachia and the special work of educating young women. We host seminars, present at conferences, and publish our best thinking. Challenging work and deep thinking make up our summer internship program, college break service opportunities, our year-round Americorps program, and professional development opportunities.

FEES: Free

ELIGIBILITY: We serve young people ages 12 to 25 from Pocahontas, Nicholas and Greenbrier counties.
